TELLS ON COMMERCE

TUESDAY GAMES LOOM UP

Erasmus-Manual and Poly Prep. Boys' High Double-Header Attracts the Most Interest.

As the championship football games draw near, the student body at the High sult. It has been noticed, and by the players themselves, that in the last few days they have not been able to get the same drive into their attack, while the Maroon backs have ripped their defence into a thousand pieces.

There has been little disposition on the part of the coach to let up. It is probable, however, that after the Morris game o-morrow the boys will be allowed to ease down and get a chance to recuperate before meeting Manual Training High school in the game which may decide the championship of greater New York. Last week Commerce scrimmaged against 'varsity three times, and by way of resting tackled the Fordham Prep. team on another day.

Misfortune has camped close on the trail of Commerce this season, and with many of his best players on the side lines Ed Sisskind has been at his wits' ends to put a strong team in the field. The ss of Howard Cann was a staggering blow, but his place has been filled by Frank Parkington, who is making a remarkable showing in practice. Russell Clapp, at fullback, and Gene Quinn, at the other half, with Gunther and Wittner at quarterback, complete the first string

The schoolboys await with great interest the results of the four big games Much information will be gained, for the true power of all teams engaged will have to be shown, and the formations, plays and "courts of last resort," as these desperate chance play are called, will be uncovered in the effort to stave off defeat.

Of chief importance are the games be tween Poly Prep and Boys' High and Erasmus Hall and Manual Training High which will be played at Ebbets played the first half will retire and Eras- shape. nus and Manual Training will fight it Poly Prep will then finish their game, that over, Manual Training and Erasmus will bring their struggle to a

A well played game is expected, and while Clinton expects to win, Hooks the coach, declared that a single touchdown or a goal from the field would be more than likely to decide the issue.

Morris High School and Commerce will clash on the Polo Grounds to-morrow defeat at the hands of Curtis High School them handily yesterday afternoon at Hedafternoon. Morris is discouraged over her last week, but the boys believe they have an even chance of defeating the 65th street warriors.

The clean record of Adelphi Academy was smirched by the defeat suffered at the hands of Princeton Prep, but the team was not disgraced in any way. Out- Brooklyns. played from start to finish by a bigger, stronger team, the Brooklyn boys fought like Spartans, and never yielded an inch without the most stubborn resistance. Captain Ibbotson was a power in the line and piled up many a play before it really got under way. The Alford brothers played well, too, and Don ran the team with the cool skill of a general. It was, however, a clear cut question of lack of power, Tommy Brush, the former Erasmus Hall player, showed well for the Tigerlets, and gained many yards with his terrific plunging.

Llewellyn Wray, a former Adelphi lad now at Princeton Prep., refused to play against his old school, and watched the game from the side lines. He almost cheered when Leyser slid over the line for Adelphi's lone score.

Hope of a high rating in the scholastic football ranks is about extinct in the hearts of the Stuyvesant High School players. At the beginning of the season enthusiasm ran riot, and victory over the big teams was freely predicted. The first setback came with the defeat at the hands of De Witt Clinton, and the other day, when Bay Ridge held them to a 7 to 6 victory, that which springs eternal sank to rise no more until next September sounds the call again.

"Rube" Onley, the former Commercial High School football star now at Colgate, played in the game against Yale on Saturday, and, according to the reports of the game, did well.

"Steam Roller Hank" Blodgett, another New York boy, showed the coaches at Annapolis his true worth in the game with Lehigh on Saturday, and has an excellent chance of playing against the Army when the teams line up on the Polo Grounds on November 29. A large delegation of High School of Commerce alumni will be at the game to cheer their favorite on in the big game.
